Week 3: Development in Context

Bronfenbrenner's Ecological Systems Theory

Make sure to take effective notes for each of the systems – this will be important for Assignment 2

Baltes Theory

Key concepts of this theory...

- Age graded influences
- History-graded influences
- Non-normative influences

Indigenous perspectives of human development

- Māori and Pasifika worldviews tend to be collectivist, focusing on the interconnectedness of the various aspects of health and development.
- Individual goals tend to be aligned with collective goals (i.e., goals of the collective/family/community).
- Relationships are very important
