Assignment 2

Socioemotional Theory: Erikson

- Brief introduction including principles or big ideas of Erikson's theory
- Description of relevant stages or concepts for your character
- At least one example from the case story highlighting the stage

Second Socioemotional Theory

Select a second theory (or theories) that address aspects of psychosocial development relevant to your case story character.

Provide:

- Brief introduction that includes principles or big ideas of the theory
- Description of relevant stages or concepts for your character
- At least one example for each stage/concept.

Cognitive Theory

Select at least one cognitive theory.

Provide:

- Brief introduction including principles or big ideas of theory
- Description of relevant stages or concepts for your character
- At least one example for each theory/concept.

If you are using an adult case story, you must also address postformal thought.

Ensure your description focuses on cognitive aspects of development here.

Which Theory?

The theories you choose must be theories covered in this course.

Choose from the list provided in the assignment instructions.

Not all theories are a good fit for all case stories. Choose theories applicable to the age of your character and the context of the story.
